JULY 28, 1773.

THE generous Adventurers in the VINEYARD CASH LOTTERY are notified the Reason, why the First Class has been rather longer than expected not drawn, is occasioned for want of an Account of the Disposal of some Tickets in Virginia, Maryland, and other distant Places, which are wrote for, and from the great Encouragement the Undertaking has met with (considering the Number of Lotteries on Foot) the Drawing will certainly commence on Pettie's Island, on Monday, the 23d of next Month, as but few Tickets are undisposed of; therefore, those desirous of promoting the Design, and of taking a favourable Chance of so many high Prizes, will apply in Time—And the Proprietor of the Vineyard solicits the Company of his Friends, to see how worthy his Endeavours are of all public Encouragement.

To be SOLD, by THOMAS LAKE,

In Second-street, near the New-market, PHILADELPHIA, A PARCEL of Root Jamaica SPIRIT, by the Hoghead; COFFEE, of the best Quality, by the Tierce or Barrel; LOGWOOD, by the Ton. Said LAKE also keeps a Mahogany Yard, where all Cabinet-makers, Joiners, and others, may be supplied, either with Mahogany Boards, Plank, or Logs, of all Dimensions; he imports these Articles himself, and will sell on the most reasonable Terms. 13 M.

THE subscriber, having obtained patents for upwards of 20,000 acres of land, on the Ohio and Great Kanhawa, being part of 200,000 acres, granted by proclamation, in 1754, (10,000 of which are situated on the banks of the first mentioned river, between the mouths of the two Kanhawa's; the remainder on the Great Kanhawa or New River, from the mouth, or near it, upwards in one continued survey) proposes to divide the same into any sized tenements that may be desired, and lease them upon moderate terms, allowing a reasonable number of years, rent free; provided that, within the space of two years from next October, three acres for every fifty contained in each lot, and proportionable for a lesser quantity, shall be cleared, fenced, and tilled, and that by or before the time limited for the commencement of the first rent, five acres for every hundred, and proportionably, as above, shall be inclosed and laid down in good grass for meadow; and moreover, that at least fifty good fruit trees, for every like quantity of land, shall be planted on the premises.

Any persons inclinable to settle upon these lands, may be more fully informed of the terms, by applying to the subscriber, near Alexandria, in Virginia, or, in his absence, to Mr. LUND WASHINGTON; and will do well in communicating their intentions before the first of October next, in order that a sufficient number of lots may be laid off to answer the demand.

As these lands are among the first which have been surveyed, in the part of the country where they lie, it is almost needless to premise, that none can exceed them in luxury of soil, or convenience of situation; all of them lying upon the banks either of the Ohio, or Kanhawa, and abounding in fine fish and wild fowl of various kinds, as also in most excellent meadows, many of which (by the bountiful hand of nature) are in their present state almost fit for the scythe.

From every part of these lands water carriage is now had to Fort-Pitt, by an easy communication, and from Fort-Pitt up the Monongahela to Red Stone, vessels of convenient burthen may, and do pass continually; from whence, by means of Cheat River, and other navigable branches of Monongahela, it is thought the portage to Patowmack may, and will be reduced within the compass of a few miles, to the great ease and convenience of the settlers, in transporting the produce of their lands to market; to which may be added that, as patents have now actually passed the seals, for the several tracts here offered to be leased, settlers on them may cultivate and enjoy the land in peace and safety, notwithstanding the unsettled councils, respecting a new colony on the Ohio; and as no right money is to be paid for these lands, and a quitrent of Two Shillings, being a hundred, demandable some years hence only, it is highly presumable that they will always be held upon a more desirable footing, than where both these are laid on with a very heavy hand. It may not be amiss further to observe, that if the scheme for establishing a new government on the Ohio, in the manner talked of, should ever be effected, these must be among the most valuable lands in it, not only on account of the goodness of the soil, and the other advantages above enumerated, but from their contiguity to the seat of government, which more than probable will be fixed at the Mouth of the Great Kanhawa.

Martin Ferns, July 15, 1773. GEORGE WASHINGTON.

TO BE RENTED,

THE plantation whereon Mr. William Clifton formerly lived, lately possessed by Mr. Samuel Johnston, and at present in the tenure and occupation of his daughters; this plantation, or farm, is very pleasantly situated on Patowmack River, about five miles below Alexandria, and contains about 200 acres of cleared land, very good for grain of every kind, and tobacco; as also one of the largest and best springs on this side the Blue Ridge, within twenty yards of the door; it has a front upon the river of near a mile and an half, affording several good fishing landings; one of which only rented last spring, during the shad and herring season, for Twenty-five Pounds; to this belongs a well accustomed Ferry, upon the most direct road leading from Annapolis through Colchester, Dumfries, and Frederickburg to Williamsburg; on the premises are a dwelling-house, with two brick chimneys and seven rooms, a kitchen, smoke-house, &c. GEORGE WASHINGTON.

ALL Persons that are indebted to the Estate of MARGARET BISHOP, deceased, are desired to pay, and those that have any Demands against her, are likewise desired to bring in their Accounts, properly proved, and they shall be paid, by July 29, 1773. JOHN SWIFT, Executor.

By the HARRIOT PACKET, Captain OAK, arrived at New-York from Falmouth, we have the following Advices, viz.

WARSAW, May 1.

A COPY has appeared here of the manifesto, which the Lithuanian Nuncio M. Reytan laid before the Grod of Warlaw, the 21st of April, and was signed by M. Reytan and M. Korlack, both Nuncios of Novogrod, the substance of which is as follows:

"That they protest before the King and the whole Republic, that the laws of the nation have been broken through, that the Nuncios were deprived of their freedom of action and speech at the Dyet, and their characters unworthily traduced by Count Potinski, who having usurped the office of Marshal of the Dyet, has not scrupled to arrest the Nuncios of Novogrod for attempting to hinder him. That they asserted upon the rights of the Republic, particularly those appointed in 1669, where the freedom of speech is in the strongest manner confirmed to the Nuncios: That they moreover protested against the abusing their laws and freedom; and that they would not agree to any thing done at the Dyet till it could be held free, and to the advantage of their country."

Bonn, May 17. There is the greatest appearance of a very plentiful harvest all over this part of Germany, as also of a good vintage; both of which are very necessary, as the misery has been very great from the exorbitant price of corn and wine, which has been more than double what it was four years ago.

Paris, May 19. The 11th of this month a courier arrived here from London to Lord Stormont, the English Ambassador, with advice, that in consequence of the formal declaration of the Duke d'Aiguillon, relative to the suspension of the fleet at Toulon, the same resolution had been taken to suspend likewise the armament of the English fleet, and that orders had been expedited for that purpose.

Algiers, March 25. The English frigate, named the Winchelsea, of 32 guns and 180 men, commanded by Capt. Wilkinson, anchored the 6th instant in our road. The Captain presented to the Dey a letter from the King his Master, received his answer, and departed the 9th for the island of Minorca. The Captain's audience lasted but a few minutes, and, on his request, no Officer of the Regency was suffered to be present. It is supposed here that the misunderstandings between England and Algiers are terminated, and that the first-mentioned Power, more enlightened than the Algerines, chose rather to make some small sacrifices than come to a rupture.

Dantzick, April 27. The Prussian Resident has delivered the following memorial to the Magistrate of this place:

"His Prussian Majesty having made the following three (suburbs of Dantzick) royal towns, viz. Schiedlitz, Stolzenberg, and Sehtland, cannot suffer the town of Dantzick to take duties on the merchandizes which the inhabitants of those towns buy of the Dantzickers. His Majesty could demand a restitution to be made of all the duties paid by those inhabitants since the first establishment of the Excise, but guided by that moderation which governs all his actions, he limits his demands to the last twenty years; in consequence of which, the town of Dantzick is to pay him 500,000 florins, being the amount of the duties paid from 1753 to 1773, according to an exact calculation made on oath by those inhabitants."

Warsaw, May 8. The Dyet are going to establish four Commissions, that they may dispatch their business as quick as possible; the first is to treat with the Allied Powers; the second is charged with the affairs of the Dissidents; the third is to judge the King's Affairs; and the fourth is to regulate the new form of government which is going to be established in this kingdom.

May 10. Last Tuesday the answers of the Courts of France, England, Sweden, and the Republic of the United Provinces to the King's Letters were read, by which all those powers refuse to concern themselves with the affairs of Poland. These letters are going to be printed, that nobody may flatter themselves with the hopes of a foreign alliance in favour of this kingdom.

The Ministers of the three Allied Powers have complained heavily to the Dyet that they spend all their time in useless debates, and therefore that they allowed them but eight days from hence to finish all. In consequence of which Deputies have been appointed and instructions given them, which are comprised in 16 articles, to regulate the affair with them, and as the conferences have begun, it is thought the Dyet will soon be finished. These Deputies have orders not to enter into deliberation with the Ministers of the three Powers about the establishment of a new form of government.

May 12. Regarding the treaty of cession, the King has remitted a note to the Ministers of the Allied Powers, setting forth, that "The Republic could not discuss on that subject without the concurrence of the powers who were guaranties of the treaties of peace made by Poland." The Ministers have returned a formal answer to this, the contents of which are not yet known.

Three squadrons of Austrian Hussars, and the same number of Prussians, entered this place, which has spread an universal consternation. The foreign troops approach daily, and are not above a mile off. Quarters are demanded for them in all the houses, and even in the palaces, not excepting those of the Royal Family, and all the Convents. Notwithstanding these preparations the Dyet persists in not agreeing to what the three Foreign Ministers would have, for there seems now to be more alienation from it than ever, and will not conclude without coming to extremities, it is feared.

They write from Moldavia, that 3000 Turks having attempted to pass the Danube, were so warmly received by General Potemkin, that 400 were killed, and 200 made prisoners.

Paris, May 14. The populace of Toulouse lately rose, on account of the dearth of corn. They assembled in the market-place, and the corn-merchants took refuge in their houses. The Capitouls, or chief Magistrates, attempted to appease the tumult, which they were only able to do, upon promising that corn should be sold for 16 livres the septier, which is equal to 32 bushels, instead of 22 livres, which was the price before this affair, which was immediately complied with; but for fear of the people taking advantage of this, to raise another tumult, in order to obtain a further diminution, a regiment of cavalry was sent from the garrison of Carcassona to this town. All these precautions have only stopped the disturbance, but not the cause. There have been the same disorders at Montpellier.

Petersburgh, May 4. The Hetman of the Don Cossacks has received his sentence, which is that of death; but her Imperial Majesty, thro' her great clemency, has changed it to perpetual imprisonment, and confiscating the remainder of his effects, after allowing a sum for his maintenance in prison. The seizure of this Hetman having caused a revolt among his countrymen, the Empress has sent some regiments to quell it.

Warsaw, May 12. Mr. Reytan, Nuncio of Novogrod, who had acquired much esteem for his Patriotism, forgot himself so far last week, as to draw his sabre on the man, who, in the name of the Confederacy, had brought him a letter of invitation; an enormous crime according to the laws, and for which he is liable to lose his head. He put himself under the protection of Prussia, and appeared in the city on horseback for two days together, accompanied by a Hussar of the regiment of Malachowski. He is now under the protection of Russia, and lodges at the hotel of General Bibikow, who has received an effatete from Petersburg, with the news that the Empress his Sovereign had appointed him General in Chief.

They write from Moldavia, that the Russian General Potemkin, having passed the Danube, had defeated the Seraskier, with the loss of 7000 Turks. The advices add, that the Grand Vizier had thereupon demanded an armistice of fifteen days, which the General Field Marshal had refused to grant; but that at last, on repeated instances, the latter had consented to a suspension of twenty-four hours, out of regard to the Visir's person.

May 15. The division of this kingdom made by the three Allied Powers is at last ratified contrary to the expectation of the Polish nation. The respective claims of the three Powers have been acknowledged by the King, the Senators, and the Nuncios. Every thing, however, was carried by a trifling majority, 50 of the Nuncios were for the King, and 52 against him; and among the Senators there were twelve, and one out of the Ministry, which was the Lithuanian Vice Chancellor, who voted for the King.

As yet there is scarce forming any judgment with regard to the new form of government, which is to take place in this kingdom; but it said that the King will have very little to do with the government; that 800 Polish ducats per day will be allowed him for his table, and other expences of state. The appointment of all civil and military employments will depend upon a council of state appointed by the three Powers. The Republic are not to have more than 12,000 men regular troops in their service, and each of the three Powers will send 5000 men to be supported by the Republic.

L O N D O N.

May 20. Yesterday the House of Commons made a standing order, that no strangers be admitted into the gallery during the remainder of the session.

It is said, that the last dispatches sent to the Lords Stormont and Grantham, our Ambassadors at Versailles and Madrid, contained final requisitions for definitive answers from those Courts, relative to the real destinations of the fleets now sitting out at their several ports.

Extract of a Letter from Dantzick, May 10.

"His Prussian Majesty has issued an order, that the duties laid upon the ships at the Custom House of Westerdiep shall never be taken off or repealed; but to make it the easier, as his Majesty is not inclined to hurt the commerce of this city, the ships passing are only to pay the duty they are used to at the City Custom House; and if it should be too heavy a load to pay such a duty twice, and the commerce be reduced by it, the city may, if they please, prevent it, by withdrawing and abolishing their own Custom House."

The master of a vessel arrived from Lisbon brings an account, that a few days before he left that place, the Deliverance, a Portuguese man of war of 74 guns, took fire in the Tagus, and burnt down to the water's edge; unhappily upwards of 100 seamen perished in the flames.

On Tuesday evening nine women, one dressed in the uniform of a Captain of a man of war, another like a Lieutenant, and the other seven in the dress of common Sailors, with cockades &c. went about this city as a press gang, and frightened several young fellows, who ran from them; but at length the pretended Lieutenant was taken into custody, and yesterday carried before Alderman Trecothick, at Guildhall; when on her declaring that their appearing in that manner was only to see how many young fellows they could frighten, which were many, but not with any bad design, and promising not to be guilty of the like for the future, she was dismissed with a reprimand.

A private letter from Rochelle gives an account that eight West-India ships, and three barks, laden with corn, were stranded behind the island of Oleron.

By letters from Jamaica, we are assured that the fortifications of Port Royal, and every other part of the island, have been put into the best state of defence possible.

On Tuesday, Sir Charles Whitworth reported from the Committee who were appointed to enquire what Laws are expired, or near expiring, when the House came to the following resolutions, viz.

"That an Act, made in the 4th of his present Majesty, intituled, 'An act for importing salt from Europe into the province of Quebec, in America, for a limited time,' and which was further continued in the 6th, to June 1773, is fit to be continued;" and a bill is ordered in accordingly.

"That an Act, made in the 6th year of the reign of his present Majesty, intituled, 'An act for opening and establishing certain ports in the islands of Jamaica and Dominica, for the more free importation and exportation of certain goods and merchandizes; for granting certain duties to defray the expences of opening, maintaining, securing and improving such ports; for ascertaining the duties to be paid upon the importation of goods from the said island of Dominica into this kingdom, and for securing the duties upon goods imported from the said island into any other British Colonies,' which was to continue in force until November 11, 1773; to the end of the then next session of Parliament, is near expiring, and fit to be continued, with amendments." This resolution being read a second time, it was ordered to be referred to the Committee of Ways and Means for raising the supply, to consider of the same.

The Earl of Corke, in a letter from Florence, written in the year 1755, makes the following observation, which a correspondent says he thinks is prophetic: "The ball of empire may hereafter roll westward, and may stop in America; a world unknown when Greece was in its meridian glory, a world that may save the tears of some future Alexander."

Wednesday Lord Townshend was married to Miss Montgomery. She is said to be about 17, and his Lordship about 50 years of age.

May 22. A motion was made in the House of Commons on Tuesday last for the admission of Irish Members, and the loss of English ones, into the gallery, which passed in the negative.

The French Ambassador, it is said, when he departs this kingdom, will go to Spain, in order to give his antagonists an opportunity of receiving satisfaction without meeting with any molestation from the police of his own country.

Extract of a Letter from Paris, May 17.

"Captain Ohier, Commander of the ship Le Sévere, arrived from the coast of Guinea and St. Domingo, at St. Malo's, on the 12th of last month, where he landed the crew of the Endeavour, whom he had taken up, on the 10th, twenty-five leagues west north-west of Ushant. This English ship, of 70 tons burthen, commanded by Captain Miller, failed from Poole in ballast, and was going to St. Julian, on the coast of Newfoundland. She had met with a storm, and was in great danger. The pumps were kept working night and day for two days without success, and the Captain had not the least hopes of being saved, when he was received, with nine of his crew, on board the Severe, from whence he saw his ship sink to the bottom. On their arrival at St. Malo's, money and provisions were distributed to the Englishmen, and the means of returning to their own country was procured for them on board a British ship, which had put into Cancale."

Extract of a Letter from Constantinople, April 2.

"Intelligence has just arrived here from the Black Sea, that the Russian fleet is very numerous there, and that they compel every Turkish vessel they meet with to pay them a kind of tribute, or custom, as they term it, for liberty to sail in a sea belonging to her Imperial Majesty of Russia; some ships which refused to pay they have seized and confiscated. The Porte, in consequence of these advices, has given orders for the fleet of ships and galleys, which now lie in the harbour of Constantinople, to sail immediately to the Black Sea, but whether they are to enter on action, is not yet known."

Letters from Warsaw say, that many of the Polish and Lithuanian Nobility have refused to sign the Act of Confederacy.

They write from Madrid, that three of the Catalonian Regiments are ordered to be embarked immediately for the West-Indies.

It is said that some very interesting intelligence, respecting the armament at Toulon, was received yesterday at the Secretary of State's Office.

Sir James Lowther, we hear, has left the turf, and is turning his attention to the improvement of his country. He is building a small town on some of his waste land in the North, and is peopling it with such poor people as might probably emigrate to America. He gives to each family a house, rent-free, and an acre of land on leasehold. He engages to find the man constant work, and the children will be employed in some manufacture. To each family he also allows a bushel of coals a week, and he keeps a butcher in the town, whom he obliges to sell mutton at 2d halfpenny a pound.

May 27. Orders are issued from the War Office, for all Officers on furlow, on the Irish establishment, to join their respective regiments.

Extract of a letter from Warsaw, May 6.

"The Ministers of the three Allied Powers have sent Couriers to their respective Courts, for new instructions how to proceed in regard to some incidents which have happened at the Dyet. It is said, that the Dissidents will have some new privileges granted them, but they will not be allowed to have any part in the Legislation. It is reported, that the plan for a new form of government for Poland, as proposed by the Ministers of the Allied Powers, has been accepted of by the King; but his Majesty gave them to understand, that he accepted it with regret, and by the Marshals of the Confederacy. It is reported, that the Dyet have likewise approved of it. If this news is confirmed, it is very likely the Dyet will not be of long duration."

The report that upwards of 200,000 people had been lost in the river Canton, in China, in a hurricane in August last, may seem extravagantly great; but when it is considered that the Fishermen on that river, and all others that carry manure for the cultivation of rice, live with their families at all times in their boats, it may not appear so enormous. China is said to contain 38 millions of people, between the ages of 16 and 60.

Extract of a Letter from Venice, April 22.

"The warlike preparations of this Republic are still continued, and with redoubled vigour. The suddenness of these measures has amazed most people, and the perseverance which is used confirms the opinion, that the Republic have some fear of being attacked by a certain great power."

In a Committee on Ways and Means, voted, that an additional duty of one penny half-penny per square yard be laid on all painted, printed, or stained paper, imported into this kingdom from foreign parts. It was reported this day.

Read the first time the bill for the better encouragement of the fishery in the gulph of St. Lawrence.

It is said that the Parliament will be up much sooner than was expected.

It is said that nothing but the customary supplies will be demanded from the Parliament for the service of the present year, and that 1,300,000l. of the national debt has been paid off in the course of last year.

This morning died, advanced in years, at her house in St. James's-square, her Grace Mary Duchess of Norfolk. Her Grace was married in 1727, and was the daughter and co-heir of Ed. Blount, Esq; of Blagdon, in Devonshire.

May 29. We are informed that a great and amiable Lady, in a letter lately wrote to the Duchess of Gloucester, styles herself her "affectionate Sister," &c.

Yesterday the Lord Mayor held a Court of Common Council, in pursuance of a summons, "to consider of an application to Parliament, respecting a bill now depending, relating to the East-India Company." Mr. Alderman Kirkman very ably went into the particulars of the bill, and proved inconceivably that the bill was no less injurious to the rights of every corporate body in the kingdom from its principle, than a direct and immediate attack on the privileges of the East-India Company, and the rights of the Proprietors, secured to them by charter and by Parliament. He afterwards expatiated on the consequences of placing so enormous a power in the crown, to the total destruction of the constitution, and concluded with moving for a petition to the House of Commons against the bill now depending, and for instructions to the Members to oppose its progress in the house. Mr. Alderman Wilkes seconded Mr. Ald. Kirkman, and observed, that the bill was founded on the principle of iniquity and robbery, as well as a barefaced violation of the public faith, and therefore ought to be opposed by every corporation in the kingdom, as well as by every elector in it. Mr. Kirkman's motions were then carried unanimously, and the petition was ordered to be immediately presented to the House of Commons, which was done accordingly.

To the Hon. the Commons of Great-Britain, in Parliament assembled.

The humble Petition of the Lord-Mayor, Aldermen and Commons of the City of London, in Common Council assembled, Sheweth,

THAT this Court, having taken into their most serious consideration a bill now depending in Parliament, intituled, A bill for establishing certain regulations for the better management of the affairs of the East-India Company, as well in India as in Europe, are of opinion, that the said bill is a direct and dangerous attack on the liberties of the people, and will, if passed into a law, prove of the most fatal consequences to the security of property in general, and particularly the franchises of every corporate body in this kingdom; first, by throwing such an accession of power into the hands of the Crown; and secondly, by depriving without any legal proceeding, or any just cause, the most sacred rights of the Subject, purchased for a valuable consideration, and sanctioned by the most solemn Charters and Acts of Parliament.

That this Court is the more alarmed by these proceedings, as the privileges the city of London enjoy stand on the same security as those of the East-India Company, which are thus attempted to be violated, and as the bill has been brought into the House of Commons with a degree of secrecy, incompatible with the principles of the Constitution in matters of such public concern.

Two Petitioners therefore humbly pray this Honourable House, that the said bill may not pass into a law.

Thursday an express arrived at the French Ambassador's, and immediately his Excellency set out for St. James's, when he had a conference with his Majesty, which lasted above half an hour; afterwards there was a Council. The result of all this has transpired; for already it is said, that the dispatches confirmed the pacific intentions of his Most Christian Majesty.

Yesterday a Courier arrived from Sweden, and another from Russia, who brought advice that a treaty of peace is signed between Russia, Sweden, and Denmark.

Orders are given by the Speaker for making up the American accounts to Lady-Day last, for the inspection of Parliament immediately after the Holidays.

It is said, a very eminent Civilian has been consulted on the marriage of a certain noble Personage, to know whether it was valid, as there was no evidence to prove it; when he replied, as the parties themselves swore it, it was good in law.

A letter from Paris, dated May 21, says, "An edict is going to be passed, which will subject the three Orders of the State to a new taxation: The Clergy for their benefices, the Officers of the Army for their commissions, and persons in places under the Government for their appointments."

We hear, that orders are received at the Tower for coining a number of half and quarter guineas.

Extract of a Letter from Madrid, April 20.

"A dispute, of a very serious nature, has lately arisen between this Court and that of Lisbon, respecting some illicit practices of the Spaniards in South-America; respecting the native Indians, slaves, &c. belonging to the Portuguese, against their masters; and likewise interrupting the trade of the Brazils; seizing the Portuguese vessels on the slightest pretences; and committing many other acts of injustice. The Ministry of Portugal have repeatedly transmitted memorials to Madrid, but very little attention has been paid to them, and it is feared that it will end in disagreeable consequences."

June 1. Lord Chatham, we hear, if able, will attend the House next week, when it is expected the affairs of the East-India Company will be finally settled.

A Correspondent says, the attack on the five hundred pounds holders of the East-India stock, with the intention to set aside their votes, is only a prologue to the deepest stab about to be given to the constitution that could be imagined. The plot of this tragedy, says our Correspondent, is as follows: If the first act (that is, disqualifying those proprietors who are not in possession of 1000l. stocks from voting at the India-house on any public occasion) goes off well, the second act may be played next session, which is to disqualify all the little Freeholders in every county in England from voting for Members at the ensuing election, by which means the Members will, in effect, choose who shall be their Electors. Indifferent therefore as it may at first sight appear, this act to disqualify the East-India proprietors from voting, will at length come home to every Elector; and when too late the 40s. per ann. Freeholders shall complain of the deprivation of their ancient rights and privileges, the case of the East-India proprietors will be quoted as a precedent, and they will be told, that though many of those persons qualifications cost upwards of 1000l. each, yet as an Act of Parliament deprived them of their rights, the Freeholders of 40s. per ann. have much less reason to complain. Does it not then, concludes our Correspondent, behove the Freeholders of every county in England to call a meeting immediately, and give instructions to their Members how to act in a matter, which concerns every Englishman so nearly?

On Saturday the Duchess of Gloucester was safely delivered of a Princess, at Gloucester-house. The event was immediately notified to the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, and all the great Officers of State. Several of the Nobility were present.

On Wednesday at a Privy Council, summoned for the occasion, the Lord Chancellor, the Archbishop of Canterbury, and the Bishop of London, declared the marriages of the Dukes of Gloucester and Cumberland to be legal.

Extract of a Letter from Portsmouth, May 30.

"The ships in ordinary are painting and scraping with all possible expedition; as likewise great preparations are making in the dock-yard for the reception of their Majesties, who, it is said, will be here on the 10th of June."

The last letters from Hanover brought advice, that Prince Charles of Mecklenburgh Strelitz died the 20th of May, about 14 months old. As he was the only son, his loss is extremely regretted by his illustrious parents.

Extract of a Letter from Petersburg, May 22.

"The fleets of Russia are now in the most flourishing situation; in fact, they never were so respectable before. There are now at Revel 28 sail of the line, four of which are new 74 gun ships, and were built under the direction of Sir Charles Knowles. Most of the other new ships were built under the orders of English Artists, and great numbers of the Naval Officers are English, Scotch, or Irish. The maritime force in the Archipelago, &c. is very great, amounting to 40 sail of the line at least, besides frigates, &c."

Extract of a Letter from the Hague, May 15.

"Some letters have just arrived here from the Dutch Governors on the coast of Guinea, which give very disagreeable accounts of the falling off of trade, the rebellion of the Negroes, &c. But no Europeans suffer so much by these affairs as the Portuguese, the Natives in general refuse to trade with them, and if any goods are sold to them, they are sold at a very dear rate; so that considerable sums must be lost by their sale in Europe. All these misfortunes are said to have arose from the severe behaviour of the Portuguese to the Natives and Slaves."

Some letters from Lisbon advise, that three Commissioners are appointed, and are soon to set out for the Court of Madrid, to settle the differences between Spain and Portugal.

Letters from Paris mention, that a grand house is just taken there for the Prince Primate of Poland, his most valuable effects being already arrived there.

His Majesty's Birth-day being to be observed next Friday, there will be no Drawing-room on Thursday.

It is expected, that the dresses and appearance of the Nobility next Friday, at St. James's, will be very brilliant; it is said, great numbers of them have determined to appear in the manufactures of this kingdom.

Their Majesties, we hear, will set off on their intended tour to Portsmouth, &c. the beginning of next week.

It is said, that the Duchess of Ancester, and the Duchess of Northumberland, are to accompany her Majesty to Portsmouth.

The mock sea-fight, so long talked of, will, it is said, be exhibited before their Majesties.

It is said, that tho' there was not the least doubt of the legality of the marriage of the Duke of Gloucester, yet as the Rev. Mr. Morton, who performed the ceremony, is dead, it was thought advisable that it should be performed again before the delivery of the D---s, which was accordingly done the preceding day.

The Duchess of Cumberland paid a visit yesterday to the Duchess of Gloucester.

Yesterday and this day the Duke of Gloucester was complimented by a great number of the Nobility, on the birth of a daughter.

England now seems to be divided against itself, therefore the Providence must be great that keeps it from sinking. The people are broke into parties and factions, worrying and reviling one another. What a fine harvest it yields to the common enemy! It may be asked, who are the common enemy? The answer is, that there is a banditti in time of peace, as well as time of war; there are free-booters, who are not regularly lifted on either side, and who, while both sides are engaged against each other, are plundering the nation as fast as they can.

We are well informed, that the Court of France has made an offer of Corsica to General Paoli, if Great-Britain will advance them one fourth of the expences they have been at in conquering that island.

From our Correspondent at the Hague, May 22.

"The last advices we received from the Dyet at Poland do not give any light to or certainty upon their deliberations. Some say, however, that the King's party is inclined to the division, upon condition, that the part which shall be granted to him shall be a kingdom, and hereditary. The dissenters are very uneasy, because the most part of them, according to the division proposed, must remain under his authority."

Extract of a Letter from Warsaw, May 14.

"This day will be for ever a shocking one to all free and independent nations, and a most cursed and shameful one to ours; for liberty, which was bred and born in this country, and nourished with the blood of her true friends, and supported with bravery upon our throne, for these eight or nine centuries past, and had so mildly governed her children,--is slain this day by bribery and corruption, and the whole nation become everlasting slaves to tyranny, as the division of this vast empire amongst the three united plunderers has been agreed on by a majority of our Dyet, and signed this very day by our King and Ministry. The foreign troops came into this city, all the streets were filled by Austrian and Prussian hussars, with drawn swords, and in this manner the question was put to the Assembly. The Dyet, or Parliament, after a short debate, was divided, when there were found, fifty-two votes for the King, against the question, and fifty-two against the King, for the question; the majority was declared for the question, and the King, together with his party against it, were immediately obliged to sign it. The foreign troops still remain in the public streets, for fear of an insurrection amongst the people, but the ministers of the three united powers declare, that their troops shall withdraw to-morrow, and that but a small garrison is to remain here to prevent any disorders; but in the mean time nobody is permitted to enter or pass the city gates without being examined. Such is the consequence of a nation's not being satisfied with its fate; and such is the consequence of an aristocratic form of government! Its members are very easily bought by places and pensions, and for the least private interest will sell the whole nation, which has been the cause of all our misfortunes; for we are sure, that the most terrible menaces could not have prevailed, had not bribery been in the case."

Extract of a Letter from Leghorn, May 2.

"We have just received advice, that six Russian ships of the line, and two frigates, have passed through the Bosphorus from the Black Sea into the Aegean, or Archipelago, notwithstanding all the resistance that was made by the Turkish ships of war, and the galleys which could come up with them. The batteries at the Dardanelles opened, and began to play upon the Russians; but the guns were managed so injudiciously, that hardly one shot took place, and the vessels sailed clear through the Streight."

In the late engagement which the French frigate had with the two Russians in the Archipelago, the former lost 44 men, and was otherwise so roughly handled as to be obliged to run for Malta, in order to refit.

June 2. A detachment of the Russians, consisting of 50,000 men, have been defeated by the Turks, and 2000 slain and made prisoners, on the banks of the Danube.

Lord North has declared very positively his resolution of resigning the Premiership, but will keep all his other appointments, if permitted.---He says he is tired of the exalted character of first minister, he will play that part no longer. That the managers have used him ill often, but on a late occasion so palpably, that was he to continue longer in that mock station, he must be the ludibrium of fools, and the scorn of knaves. In this resolution his Lordship has the voice of the whole nation, and the sooner he puts it in execution the better.

By Captain GARRIGUES, arrived here from LISBON, we have the following further Advices, viz.

W A R S A W, May 22.

THE Dyet is prorogued from the 19th instant to the 15th of September. The sitting of the Plenipotentiaries and foreign Ministers, which were to have taken place next Monday, is put off till after Whitsuntide. They will begin with the Austrian Minister, then with the Russian, and lastly with the Prussian Minister. Notwithstanding the treaty of division is signed, it is said there will be another treaty particularly regarding the limits of the Prussian boundaries.

Our Ministry have in writing requested of the Ministers of the three Allied Powers, that their Courts would call all their troops out of this kingdom, as now every thing had been carried on as they desired. The Russian Minister said, that it should be done as soon as his Court approved of it. The other two Ministers only undertook it ad referendum.

Paris, May 28. There has been another great disturbance at Marmande, in Guyenne, on account of the high price of corn. The rioters stop the corn, pillage the magazines, besiege the bakers houses, and in short, there is an universal disorder, the consequences of which are to be dreaded.

Hague, June 2. Authentic letters from Petersburg, dated May 17, confirm the news of the advantage lately gained by the Russians over the Turks, near Silistria, with these further particulars; that the latter having, in a neighbouring island, a body of about 2000 men, General Potemkin sent thither a Colonel, with some cavalry, who, from an ambuscade, attacked them so briskly, that they lost 500 men in killed, wounded, and prisoners.

June 3. Yesterday the American paper currency bill passed the House of Commons.

The same day a Great Assembly read a first time the bill to enable his Majesty to raise 1,400,000l. by loan on Exchequer bills, for the purpose of relieving the East-India Company.

Read a second time, and committed, the bill to enable the Governors of Greenwich Hospital to dispose of unclaimed shares of prize-money, during the course of the last war.

The dispute between the Courts of Russia and Denmark, concerning the Duchy of Holstein, is referred to the mediation of the King of Prussia, who is to decide it at once, and to be a guarantee of the treaty that will take place in consequence thereof.

Extract of a Letter from Warsaw, May 15.

"The following is an account of all the operations of the Russian army, since the expiration of the armistice:

"The 29th of March Major Bogdanow attacked 80 Turks near Turno, and killed 13 men. The 31st of the same month Prince Gallitzin attacked a corps of 500 Turkish cavalry near Silistria, and killed 40 of them. The Cossacks have taken a vast quantity of cattle, and burnt nine mills. The 1st of April Lieut. Ferfen, with 300 grenadiers, routed several detachments of Turks in the night, and attacked those who were entrenched near Hufbal, on the Danube, and killed 100 men, and one Emir Aga. The 2d of April the Russians took several Turkish vessels on the Danube. The 16th General Potemkin beat a corps of 2000 Turks, who had come to an island in the Danube, opposite Likareff, and killed 500 of them. The 20th Major Jochemson took 30 Turkish vessels, near Giurgewo. The 26th and 27th Col. Klitchka, with 600 grenadiers, 400 light troops, and 1300 Cossacks, with six pieces of cannon, passed over the Danube, and beat a detachment of 2000 Turks, made one Aga prisoner, and took a standard. The 28th the same Colonel met a Basha, with 2000 men, 300 of whom he killed, and made 53 prisoners, and took six standards. The same day Major Lalafz, with two regiments of Cossacks, overtook the Basha Caerkiy, plundered his whole army, and even took his staff of command. The 30th 500 Tartars were attacked by the Cossacks, 300 of them killed, and 30 made prisoners. The 1st of May 300 waggons, with Turkish families, were taken, as they were going toward the Danube. Col. Bokelman has defeated a large corps of Turks opposite Giurgewo, 1000 of whom were killed, and 38 made prisoners. Among the prisoners which have been taken, are one Aga of the Janissaries, one other Aga, and a Basha."

Mr. Wilkes received the following on Saturday last:

(C O P Y)

"A Common-Council held in the Chamber of the Guildhall of the City of London, on Friday, the 28th day of May, 1773.

"This Court doth unanimously desire such Members of Parliament as are Members of this Court, to oppose the bill, now depending in Parliament, respecting the East-India Company."

"H O D G E S."

The first business of the next Common-Council, which the Lord-Mayor has promised to call on Wednesday, will be an address of congratulation to the King, on the birth of his niece, a Prin-cells, daughter of the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester, as a farther security to the Protestant succession, and an additional strength to the illustrious House of Hanover.

Extract of a letter from Portsmouth, May 30.

"This town is all alive, on the certainty of their Majesties coming to see the fleet, where many officers of the navy and others are arriving every day. They have now a certainty of a great naval promotion; six Admirals are to be made, and six Post-Captains, six Masters and Commanders, and twelve Lieutenants, and an addition given to the subaltern officers of the fleet. We hear that many superannuations will take place in the yard; that Commissioners Hughes will be knighted, and have a pension. The Admiralty and Navy Boards will be down with their flags, and the Earl of Sandwich, we are told, will have the Garter given him on this great occasion;—the first Princely visit the fleet has ever had in this reign."

Extract of a letter from Portsmouth, June 2.

"The Ocean, of 90 guns, and the Reasonable, of 74 guns, at Plymouth, and the Triumph and Marlborough, of 74 guns each, from Chatham, are expected every day to join the fleet at Spithead. Lord Edgumbe and Admiral Spry are to hoist their flags on board some of the men of war, so that we shall have three Admirals flying during the time his Majesty and Royal Family will be here, which will make a grand appearance."

"The Britannia, of 120 guns, is to be finely decorated; her decks are to be lined with green cloth, and all the other ships painted and set off in the best manner possible, that his Majesty may see the glorious state of his Navy."

"The Royal yachts, we hear, are ordered round."

June 8. The pretended amendment made to the East-India regulating bill, respecting the discretionary power of appointing, granted to the Company, comes to nothing, as it is not to take place till within six months of the expiration of their charter.

The clause in the India bill, preventing any person, holding any civil or military office under the Crown, from receiving or accepting any present or gift from any of the Indian Princes, was taken under consideration on Thursday last.

After the clause was gone through, Lord Clive observed, that such restriction would be productive of great inconveniences, particularly when any town was besieged; that instead of entering it by capitulation, the army would at all times wish to take it by storm, for the sake of the plunder. His Lordship dwelt much upon the necessity there was for leaving a discretionary power in the Governor and Council, to allow presents to be received by Commanders of armies, and other Officers, at the siege or taking possession of a town.

The Committee did not seem to approve of his Lordship's advice.

After this General Conway got up, and supported his Lordship's opinion; and Mr. Stanley also rose up, and entered deeply into a debate upon the right of receiving presents. This engaged Sir William Meredith in the controversy, who supported his former motion against the noble Lord, as the first and great example that ought to be made and brought forth to the censure of the House; that if he had succeeded in that, other gentlemen, nearly as culpable as the noble Lord, were intended to be the objects of Parliamentary enquiry; but the House having thought fit to let the great example escape, it would be needless to accuse others of less guilt, and who were led on by the force of that great example only.

The clause relating to the restraining persons not belonging to the Company from carrying on any inland trade was much debated, but agreed to at last by all parties.

The Committee then proceeded through the remainder of the clauses without farther opposition, and agreed to report their proceedings to the House, which was accordingly done, and the bill ordered to be printed.

The negotiation of the treaty between the Courts of Petersburg and Stockholm has astonished all the politicians in France, so great a blow to the French interest in Sweden being very little expected at this juncture.

Some letters from the Continent say, that the King of Prussia had like to have been burned lately by reading in bed. He had fallen asleep, during which the curtains had taken fire.

We hear that the fleet, which is ordered to rendezvous at Spithead the middle of this month, will consist of 28 ships of the line, three of them of the first rate, eleven frigates, and nine sloops of war, besides the five yachts.

It appears by the East-India bill now filled up, and printed with the amendments, that the salary of the Governor-General is to be 25,000*l.* per annum, and that of the four Council 10,000*l.* per annum each, who are to be nominated in the act; and that the salary of the Chief Justice is to be 8000*l.* and the three other Judges 6000*l.* each. The Judges to be appointed by his Majesty. The Governor and Council are not to be removable, except by his Majesty, upon representation made by the Court of Directors of the East-India Company for the time being; and in case of the avoidance of the office of such Governor-General by death, resignation or removal, his place shall, during the remainder of the term of five years, as often as the case shall happen, be supplied by the person of the Council, who stands next in rank to such Governor-General; and in case of the death, removal or promotion of any of the said Council, the Directors of the Company are empowered, during the remainder of the term of five years, to appoint, with the consent of his Majesty, his heirs and successors, under his or their sign manual, a person to succeed to the office so become vacant in the Council; and till such appointment shall be made all the powers, vested in the Governor-General and Council, shall continue in the Governor-General and Council surviving.

The following are the three additional clauses to the bill, viz.

1. That all the rights, interests, privileges and authorities, now vested in the East-India Company, and which are not hereby expressly taken away, altered or varied, shall remain in the said Company, in as full and ample a manner, as if this act had never been made.

2. That any Member or Proprietor of the Company, who shall, on or before the 1st day of October, 1773, be possessed of any stock amounting to 1000*l.* shall be deemed qualified to vote, and shall be admitted to give any vote at any election of Directors, or at any General Court of the Company, that shall be held after the 1st day of October, 1773, any thing contained to the contrary notwithstanding; and the said Member or Proprietor shall, as occasion may require, be altered in such manner, in respect to the continuance of the possession of such stock, as to comprise the time aforesaid.

3. That the said several provisions, relating to the said Governor-General and Council, shall commence from the time that public proclamation shall be made of the arrival of the Governor-General and Council appointed, or any three of them, at Fort-William, in Bengal; which proclamation the said Governor-General and Council are required to make.

Yesterday a messenger arrived at Lord Suffolk's, with some dispatches from Sir Robert Murray Keith, his Majesty's Ambassador at the Court of Vienna.

Extract of a Letter from Toulon, May 12.

"The armament which has been fitting out here for some time is now completed, and consists of the following ships, &c. viz. six sail from 90 guns to 74, eight sail from 64 to 40, fifteen frigates, and four sloops of war, with three bomb-ketches, and a fire-ship. The report which has been for some time so industriously propagated of this fleet being disbanded is false. On the contrary, the utmost assiduity has been used to render it complete, though in the strictest privacy."

They write from Paris, that that Court has concluded a three years subsidy with the Court of Denmark, and Republic of Genoa. We hear that the report of the validity of the two R---l marriages will be made by the L---d C---r in the U---r H---se on Monday next, the 14th instant, a call being appointed for that day.

We hear that the Aldermen Kirkman and Plover are intended to be put in nomination for Sheriffs for the year ensuing, by the popular party.

By Letters from the Illinois we learn, that the Spaniards have seized 4000*l.* worth of Peltry, belonging to one Ducharm, a Frenchman, who had been trading up the Missouri, a large River that discharges itself into the Mississippi, contrary to the Order of Government, as a Proclamation had been issued, declaring it Death to have any Intercourse with the Indians of that Country, as they had committed some Outrages against the Spaniards. He defended his Property with great Bravery, but being wounded in the Attack, in two Places, he made his Escape with an Indian.

Extract of a Letter from London, May 29.

"Since our last the Apprehensions of a War have greatly subsided, tho' it is evident that France and Spain have been making warlike Preparations, which have occasioned various Conjectures; but as they appear to be peaceably disposed towards us, our Government have discontinued the Bounty for Seamen, notwithstanding a Fleet is ready, in case of Need; the Stocks, however, are returned to their usual State. We have nothing new to mention, in regard to public Credit, which we think seems rather on the mending Hand; but it is expected that the general unlimited Credit, which has prevailed here and in America, will be greatly curtailed."

On Monday, the 5th of July, departed this Life, at the House of Jacob Peterson, Esq; in New-Castle County, Miss ELIZABETH VANDIKE. Pious towards God, affectionate to her Relations, affable and courteous to her Friends, obliging and benevolent to all, she died much and deservedly lamented by every One, who was connected or acquainted with her. The critical Juncture at which this amiable Person was cut off by Death in the Prime of her Days, furnishes abundant Reason for adoring the awful Dispensations of an holy God, who, by his over-ruling Providence, prevents us in our Doings, sanctifying the Grave to the youthful and lovely, and causing Funeral Rites to be more desirable than Marriage Solemnities.

A PLANTATION of the LANDS of Major Harry Gordon, containing upwards of 200 acres of extraordinary good land, in the township of Birmingham, in the county of Chester, being almost an island, surrounded with that well known stream, called Brandywine Creek, on which premises there is a seat for a grist-mill, and now is erected a saw-mill and mill-house; also, at a distance from the same, a good dwelling-house and kitchen, with gardens and a draw well at the door, a large frame barn and stables, with post and rail yards for cattle; there is a considerable quantity of excellent meadow already mowed, and more to make; two good bearing orchards, of almost all kinds of fruit. The cleared fields are so well calculated as to have water in each; the whole in good repair; the goodness of its quality, as to producing grain and grass, as also the burthen of timber on the uncultivated land, is needless to mention, the Brandywine lands being so well known throughout the province, and in the heart of a fine country, eight miles from the Borough of Wilmington, convenient to places of worship. For terms of sale, which will be made easy, apply to JOSEPH MUSGRAVE, at Kennet square, or the subscriber, on the premises.

TO BE SOLD, by WILLIAM SMITH,
At his MEDICINAL STORE, at the Sign of the Rising Sun, in Second-street, between Market and Chestnut-streets, and next door below Jonathan Zane's.
NEW INVENTED WORM-SYRUP, prepared from the Bark of a West-India Tree. It has long been a complaint among the faculty, that nothing was more wanting in physic, than a medicine which would be gentle and certain in its operation, at the same time agreeable in its form, to expel worms from the human body, especially in cases of children labouring under disorders from this cause, who are so difficultly prevailed upon to take any thing disagreeable to them. The above Syrup effectually answers each of these intentions. The first and second doses sometimes puke a little, and seldom fail of gently purging; after this, it has little or no sensible operation upon the body. It is so pleasant, that nothing but the sweet taste can be perceived; upon this account it is very agreeable to children.
It has long been in use in several of the West-India islands, and has lately found its way into England. An eminent physician of this city has used it for these two years past, with the most desirable success. Particular directions will be given with each bottle of the Syrup.

Practitioners of physic, in town and country, may be supplied with the Bark, by enquiring as above directed; where may be had, as usual, all kinds of Drugs, Medicines, &c. of the best quality, and on the most reasonable terms; also Medicine Chests, for ships, iron-works, or private families, made up with care and punctuality, and on the usual reasonable terms, with suitable and plain directions, calculated for the particular diseases of the place for which they are designed. A beautiful Liquid Blue Eye-water, &c. is prepared and sold at said store, where directions will be given for its use, to obtain a deeper or brighter colour as required.

commodiously situated, within one mile of a landing on Darby creek, containing 886 acres of good land, one half of which is woodland, and well timbered, with white-oak and other timber;
the soil of the cleared land is proper for wheat, and now bears good crops; there are on the premises, about 12 acres of watered meadow, and a considerable quantity more may be made; there are also on the premises, a shelling mill, a malt-house, and sawmill, but now in want of repair, but may be made to go again at a small expence; the plenty of timber on the premises, and in the neighbourhood, renders it valuable, with a good orchard, and sundry valuable conveniences. For conditions of SALE, apply to JOHN LEWIS, at Haverford, or HAR-VEY LEWIS, on the premises, where a plan of the same may be seen.

to promote this lottery, to whom it is difficult to write, they are requested to send for tickets to Richard Stockton, Jonathan Ser-gent, Esquires, or Mr. Enos Kello, at Princeton; to William P.
Smith, William Livingston, or Robert Ogden, Esquires, at Eli-

DESERVED,
On the 21st of May, 1773, from the Barracks, at Philadelphia, JOHN HOODLOSS, Bombardier, of Major DAVID HAY's company, in the first battalion of the royal regiment of artillery; he was born near Carlisle, in the county of Cumberland, in England, and brought up to husbandry, but has latterly assumed the character of a professor and teacher of the science of attack and defence, with the small sword, commonly called fencing; he is about 32 years of age, 6 feet high, straight and well made; hath grey eyes, and dark brown hair, with a mixture of grey; he went off in a short nankeen coat, with linen waistcoat and breeches, but carried with him his regimental clothing, consisting of a blue coat, lappelled with red, trimmed with yellow worsted lace, and a gold epaulette on the right shoulder, the waistcoat and breeches of white cloth. He was at first supposed to have gone towards New-York, but has since, it is reported, been seen at Wilmington, on Delaware. JAMES, or the Commanding Officer of the royal artillery at New-York, or to Major HAMILTON, of the 18th or royal Irish regiment of foot, commanding his Majesty's troops at Philadelphia, shall receive One Guinea reward, over and above the Twenty Shillings sterling allowed by act of parliament, for apprehending a deserter. 4w.

TO THE PUBLIC.
WHEREAS a Ferry is erected for crossing the Delaware (about a mile below the old one, commonly called Trenton Ferry) so remote from the Falls as not to be molested by the rapidity of the stream, or rocks, and free from the inconvenience of shallows laying so as to incommode the landing of the ferry-boats. The landing on the Jersey shore, on Mr. Bond's land, is on a smooth gravel bottom, at all times of the tide, so that there will be no difficulty in landing passengers on account of freshes or ice. On the Pennsylvania side, the shore is smooth, and a commodious wharf built, and the boats lie without being aground. The road leading to the New Ferry is very good, and the difference in the distance between it and the Old Ferry, from Philadelphia to New-York, is but little better than half a mile, which the convenience of the Ferry will abundantly compensate. Gentlemen, &c. travelling towards Croswicks, Allentown, Shrewsbury, Black-point, &c. will save near two miles riding. Good flats for horses and carriages, and small boats, are provided, and the public may depend on good attendance, by ELIJAH BOND, and JOHN THORNTON. 6w.

On this land is a large quantity of swamp, some of which is already cleared, and all of it may very easily be converted into fine meadow; it is an exceedingly pleasant situation, and well adapted either for a tobacco plantation, or a farm; it lies within 12 miles of Bladensburg, eight of Piscataway, and four of Alexandria, on Patowmack, in Virginia, where there is now a considerable trade carried on in wheat and flour, as well as in tobacco, and where, from the situation of the place and other circumstances, there probably will soon be as extensive a trade, as any where to the southward of Philadelphia. One third of the purchase money to be paid down on the day of sale; and, for the rest, credit will be given, if required, on giving bond and security, with interest, till paid. 8w. JOHN ADDISON.

And whereas the Deeds, previous to the aforesaid Patent from James Chambers to John Bayers, from John Bayers to Ezekiel Smith, and from Ezekiel Smith to William McClellan, are by some Accident lost or mislaid, whereby the Title to the said John Steel is defective, and he refuses to pay the Purchase Money to the said Caleb Swayze, until those Defects are by Law remedied. And thereupon the said Caleb Swayze hath petitioned the Honourable the Representatives of the Freeman of the Province of Pennsylvania, in their present Sessions, for Leave to bring in a Bill to confirm the Title in the said John Steel, and he being directed to give public Notice of his said Application, does hereby inform all Persons concerned, that if they have any Objection to his having Leave to bring in said Bill, that they appear before the Honourable Assembly, at their Sitting in September next, and make their Objections.
